Dear Friends,

II Corinthians 9:15 says "Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift." The word unspeakable means "cannot be expressed" and that is exactly what we have in Jesus Christ! He is so much more than we can ever find words for. What a wonderful time of year when we remember His humble birth, but especially the reason He came....to redeem us from our sins! Let us not forget, amongst all the busyness of Christmas, to reflect on His mercy, love and grace to us!

We had a wonderful Thanksgiving season. Our daughter and son-in-law live just 10 minutes from us and we had a great dinner together. The week following, our son Barry and wife Kristina spent a few days with us. That was an enjoyable time. Family is so special!

We've been able to visit several churches in the area these past weeks. We keep finding new ones to tell about the tract ministry. We have a couple Sundays scheduled in January, and a mission conference in February. We haven't scheduled too far ahead these days as health is not what it used to be.

One of the ministries I love doing is being out in my motorized chair, and witnessing to people, giving out many tracts. Shortly before Thanksgiving, we met up with some "snowbird" friends at a restaurant in Killeen, TX. I handed a tract to a man sitting alone at a table near us. We noticed that as he ate his food, he was reading the tract. He got up to leave and as he walked by, he tapped me on the shoulder, said he read the tract, and prayed for God to save him! Do tracts work? Absolutely, because they are the word of God!

I am also working with a young man from Turkey that I met in a mall. His wife is saved, and he knows he needs to be, but is having a hard time turning his back on the muslim religion he was raised on. Please keep him in your prayers. His name is Riza.

Thank you for prayers and support, and for the extra gifts for Christmas! What a wonderful blessing, and may God bless each one of you very special!

Wishing everyone a blessed Christmas, and God's richest blessings in the New Year!

Joyfully Serving,
