With all praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance... Colossians 4:3

Hello to all from the beautiful Yucatán Peninsula,

It's a privilege to write you and give you some updated information about the work here in Yucatán.

We trust you are well and we're thankful for each and every one that is faithful to help us stay on the field and work in the harvest.

That we're in a harvest position is obvious to us. What we're not sure of is what stage we might be in. Is it the first fruits, the main or the gleanings, but the conclusion for us is that we are seeing souls saved in a manner that we do not normally see in such consistency.

We have been actively working alongside some other churches, they are poor and have few resources, but what they lack in those areas they make up for in zeal. As a church we wanted to move bibles and distribute 1000 bibles we had received through a gift. So, we thought it would be a great idea to go out to rural areas, small villages and have some campaigns. So far, we have had the opportunity to hold evangelistic campaigns in several different places around our city and in every event, we have seen dozens calling on the name of the Lord for salvation.

As I write this update, just last night we were in a small town called Motul where pastor Miguel, a new friend, met us with several of his church and we knocked on some doors to invite people to a basketball court and in withing an hour there are over 100 gathered there. I personally witnessed to 3 different groups of over 10 adults, another of our men did the same. Over 75 kids sat and listened to a Bible lesson, then after ward we had some fellowship in Miguel's church for some Cochinita Pibil sandwiches, Yummy!

This is happening 2 times a month here for the past 3 months, and on the way home the group from our church said, Why don't we do this every week? I answered, I don't know, why don't we? They all said Amen!

We have distributed almost all of our 1000 bibles in a much shorter time than we anticipated and we're asking if anyone wants to help us purchase some more, you can donate to that need. I have found a source here in Mexico where a pallet will cost about $650. Pray about that and we'll thank you in advance.

There is another need we would like to try to help in and it's to ask for some resources for these small rural churches. We use Bekka Flash A Cards in our kid's ministries as we have found them very versatile. We're asking if any churches have duplicates in their resource library that they might consider donating. They would go to a very worthy cause, or you could simply donate to help buy new ones.

We'll include some pictures of the last few villages, and we hope they will be a blessing to you.

We thank you with all our hearts for your help and support, we pray for each of you often and we trust the Lord to give you all the increase.

Thank you and God bless
Mitchell and Elizabeth
